

▲ CURVING SPACE The Sun, a neutron star, and a black hole all having the same mass would each distort the fabric of spacetime to a different degree. The difference depends on how dense the object is, with the black hole being densest of all.

(Sky & Telescope, October 2022)